Healthy Northeast Ohio (www.healthyneo.org)

Healthy Northeast Ohio is a publicly available online resource for regional population health data in Northeast Ohio that launched in December 2019.

The website provides users with access to 300+ health and quality of life indicators, and other tools and resources to support local health improvement activities.

Healthy Northeast Ohio is utilized by the community and partners for grant applications, reports, publications, presentations, policy and program planning, and CHNA and CHIP/IS processes.

Collaborative Cuyahoga County CHNA & CHIP/IS Efforts

The collaborative Cuyahoga County CHNA and CHIP/IS processes are jointly conducted every three years by hospitals and public health departments within Cuyahoga County.

The CHNA process involves systematic, comprehensive data collection and analysis about the community's current health status and issues, including direct community input, to identify current community health needs.

The CHIP/IS process uses data from the CHNA to identify priority issues, develop goals, and plan and implement health improvement strategies to address identified needs.
